Louisville Convention—O'Conor Declines

L[illegible], Sept 4 Charles O'Conor [illegible] declines the nomination

The Democratic Convention reassembled at 11 A M. The Chairman announced that he had just received a dispatch from Charles O'Conor saying he could not accept. The announcement created a sensation in the Convention and [illegible] applause by the audience outside the [illegible] where the delegates sat. The Chairman read the dispatch which was as follows:

New York, Sept 4—To the President of the Louisville Convention—It is impossible for me to accept. I am willing to aid you in everything but that. Signed CHARLES O'CONOR

A question arose as to the genuineness of the dispatch and doubts were freely expressed. Finally the President said he had every reason to believe the dispatch genuine but said if it was a forgery the telegraph office ought to be abolished or torn down. He urged upon the Convention the necessity of staying here until their work was completed.

Luddy of New York made a speech insisting that no declination was possible, and that the nominee must run any how. A long rambling discussion ensued which soon generated into a scene of tumultuous conversation which only ended by the President refusing to entertain a motion or recognize a delegate at all. Silence and quiet being restored Morean of Indiana moved to nominate by acclamation Judge James Lyons of Virginia and President of Convention. The nomination received immense applause. On Morean putting the motion it was carried amid the wildest excitement. Morean then moved that the Convention adjourn sine die but Lyons acknowledged the indulgence of the Convention, and stated that while he felt impressed with the action of the Convention it was his duty to remind them that the motion of Morean was not in order. The question was on adoption of the motion of Burrand. The action of Convention was under excitement, and should not be allowed to pass. The question was then put on Burr's resolution and it was adopted. Convention at six o clock adjourned until ten o'clock to morrow morning

Man Bitten in a Prize Fight

DETROIT, Sept 4 —The prize fight for light weight championship and $2 000 between Arthur Chambers and Billy Edwards took place this morning at Walpole Island in St Croix river, Canada, and lasted an hour and a half. During the twenty sixth round Chambers threw Edwards upon the ropes and both fell. Chambers' seconds picked him up and called a foul, stating that Edwards had bitten Chambers on the shoulder. The referee finding teeth marks on Chambers shoulder allowed the claim and decided the fight in favor of Chambers much to the dissatisfaction of the spectators and against the protest of Edwards who cried bitterly and called God to witness that he never touched his opponent with his teeth. The referee would not reverse the decision and the crowd returned to the city

The statement regarding the protesting of the interest coupons of the Oregon and California railroad bonds telegraphed on Wednesday were furnished by Elliott formerly connected with the road who stated positively that the information came in a dispatch to Col Scott of the Texas and Pacific Co. The financial agent of the company at San Francisco states positively that all interest on the bonds has been promptly paid, and the money for the October payments has already been deposited with Drexel & Co bankers in New York. The statement appears to have been wholly false and malicious but was furnished by Elliott in such a manner as to lead the reporter for the Associated Press to suppose there was no possibility of doubting its genuineness

The Oregon State Agricultural Society and its Management

We have for a long time been aware that a majority of the public, for the reason that they have never taken the trouble to inquire, are ignorant of the plan of the organization of this Society and of its management; many supposing that it is a company formed for the purpose of money making solely; others, that it is in some way under the control of the State; still others that the property is held in shares which can be bought and sold like those of other incorporations; that those who have charge of large sums of money at the Fair are in no way accountable, and that many make a good thing by fraud, etc. Please allow me space to correct, if I can, the wrong impressions gained which tend to keep many from becoming members of the Society, or from aiding in its management

The Oregon State Agricultural Society is an incorporation made such for its own protection solely. It has no shares which can be bought or sold—no dividends to declare or profits to divide, but holds its property and improves it for the benefit of its members and the people of Oregon. Its officers are elected annually by ballot and every member is entitled to vote. The officers so elected meet in January of each year, make rules for the annual Fair and adopt a list of premiums. There are no other meetings, except during the Fair, but at that time the Board meets every day and the Society every evening of the week. The Board of Managers have almost unlimited power to make such regulations as they may deem best, contrary to the expressed instructions of the Society. They cannot however sell or transfer the Society's property to others, but it must remain for the uses and purposes of the same, to wit: "To foster every branch of agricultural and mechanical industry, mining interests and the fine arts, and to add to the happiness of home life." All meetings of the Society and the Board are public and all proceedings are published, including receipts and expenditures of the year, so that those who desire can easily ascertain the progress the Society is making.

MONEY RECEIVED BY GATE KEEPERS

Much has been said in regard to the opportunity for gate keepers to appropriate the funds of the Society at the annual fairs. On this point I deem it proper to say a word. Gate keepers receive their tickets from the Secretary who charges them with the same, and on Saturday of Fair week they are required to settle their accounts and return the tickets charged or their value in money. On each evening of the Fair the Treasurer calls upon the ticket venders and receives such amounts of money as they may have from sales of the day, giving them a receipt for the same, which is passed to their credit on settlement. All persons or officers in the employ of the Society who in any way are allowed control of the funds the same are subject to similar rules.

The Secretary and Treasurer of the Society are required to give bonds for the faithful performance of their duties and those bonds are held by the Society through its President, until their accounts are examined and approved by the Board of Managers and Finance Committee at the January meeting, so that fraud is next to impossible if any were designed besides those who sell the tickets are selected with reference, first of all to their honesty and general character. I do not believe that five dollars was ever lost through the gate-keepers, but I am firmly convinced that if the money was in the Treasury which has been taken from the Society by passing tickets and badges through the enclosures and in various ways I could name, defrauding it of its means, there would be no account of indebtedness against the organization to-day

MONEY IN HANDS OF THE TREASURER

Premiums and expenses of the Fair (paid before its close) generally leave about $2 500 in the hands of the Treasurer on Monday following Fair week. This sum is in a few days reduced by payment of bills and premiums, until $200 or $300 only remain and small outstanding accounts and premiums generally find the Treasury nearly empty before the January meeting, so that often there is barely money to pay the mileage and per diem of the members of the Board, but while this is true it must not be forgotten that from $1 500 to $1 800 is annually expended for improvements on the Fair Grounds, and paid for, which leaves the Society at the close of each fiscal year better prepared to meet the demands of the public

WORK PERFORMED BY CONTRACT

Many suppose that a few favorites receive all the work to be done on the Fair Grounds or for the Society. This opinion, also is not founded on fact. All work, of any considerable amount is done by contract, and let to the lowest bidder, nor has favor been shown to any contractor or laborer on the improvements of the Society. The printing also, is let to the lowest bidder, and has been for the last three years, every office in the State being solicited to compete for the work, and furnished with a list of the printing required

AMUSEMENTS ETC ON THE GROUNDS

Much complaint is made because the Society gives licenses to circuses and amusements of various kinds. If the ten thousand dollars in premiums (to say nothing of the expenses of the Fair and improvements annually made, could be paid for in promises or on the 10 per cent entrance or sale of tickets, there might be some show of reason in the complaint but every dollar the Society agrees to pay for premiums or otherwise, it must pay, else its patronage would cease and the organization be left at the mercy of the law. But while licenses are granted for places of amusement which tend to vastly increase the revenue and to make Fair week an occasion of pleasure to thousands who come for pleasure only, nothing calculated to corrupt the morals of the people is allowed to occupy the ground with the knowledge or consent of the Society or its officers and I doubt whether any one who had character to lose) was ever materially injured in morals or otherwise by the licensed exhibitions of the Fair, though if money making alone was the aim of the Society one thousand dollars could be obtained for gambling tables and other chances to fleece the public. That the devil can be found at the Fair I think is true, but there is no justice in charging to the management of the Society all the vice and immorality which may obtain where twenty thousand people are congregated for all sorts of purposes

CONCLUSION

That there are many things in the conduct of the Society and the Fair which might be improved I shall not undertake to deny, but these will require time and money. That the Society will succeed in vastly improving its management, there can be no question, and if those who are ready to blame for seeming neglect will take the trouble to inquire the cause and assist the Society in the performance of its labors we shall have far less dissatisfaction at and a stronger interest in our Annual State Fairs

The lower classes in Japan are afraid of the telegraph. They cannot altogether see "how the old thing works" and they are simple enough to think that it is the device of the devil, and that the wires are coated with the blood of young women and that the census now being taken is for the sole purpose of finding out the number of available Japanese maidens whose blood will do for telegraphic purposes

Providence in Physical Affairs.

[From the Boston Advertiser]

The last number of the Contemporary Review contains a suggestion likely to receive some attention from the philosophical and religious world. It is contained in the form of a letter from Professor Tyndall, and by him furnished for publication. The name of the originator of the suggestion is not given. It is of the nature of an experiment or plan relative to a means of determining the value of prayer to Deity. "It seems to me," says the writer, "impossible at the present day to find ourselves in contact with a source of power available for human ends, or affirmed to be so on high authority, without recognizing a necessity—or even that it is a duty—to estimate its value." He then enumerates the class of objects which are commonly believed by the Christian world to be attainable by prayer and legitimate subjects of supplication to God. Of these he selects the prayer for the recovery of the sick as one almost universally deemed proper and prevailing and particularly suitable to his proposed scheme. Either prayer has an influence to the restoration of the sick or it does not, and "if it does, a careful investigation of diseased persons by good pathologists working with this end in view, must determine the fact. The fact determined, it is simply a matter of further careful clinical observation to estimate the extent or degree in which prayer is effective. He then narrates the conditions under which experiments are conducted and the value ascertained of new medicines or new treatment of the diseased in large public hospitals, refers to the fact that unquestioned data of averages with regard to the results of certain maladies of the body have been obtained. On the accuracy of data of this character the whole business of life assurance is based and concludes as follows:

Now for the purpose of an inquiry, I do not propose to ask that one single child of man should be deprived of his participation in all that belongs to him of this vast influence. But I ask that one single ward or hospital under the care of first-class physicians and surgeons, containing certain numbers of patients afflicted with those diseases which have been best studied and of which the mortality rates are best known, whether the diseases are those which are treated by medical or by surgical remedies should be during a period of not less, say than three or five years made the object of special prayer by the whole body of the faithful, and that at the end of that time the mortality rates should be compared with the past rates and also with that of other leading hospitals similarly well managed during the same period. Granting that time is given and numbers are sufficiently large so as to insure a minimum of error from accidental causes, the experiment will be exhaustive and complete. I might have proposed to treat two sides of the same hospital, managed by the same men; one side to be the object of special prayer, the other to be exempted from all prayer. It would have been the most rigidly logical and philosophical method. But I shrink from depriving any of—I had almost said his natural inheritance in the prayers of Christendom. Practically too it would have been impossible, the unprayed for ward would have attracted the prayers of believers as surely as the lofty tower attracts electric fluid. The experiment would be frustrated. But the opposite character of my proposal will commend it to those who are naturally the most interested in its success, those, namely who conscientiously and devoutly believe in the efficiency against disease and death of special prayer. I open a field for their devotion. I offer an occasion of demonstrating to the faithless an imperishable record of the real power of prayer."

Professor Tyndall in his introductory note expresses the opinion that the proposition must command the attention of the thoughtful. It is certainly desirable to have clearer notions than we now possess of the action of 'Providence' in physical affairs. He quotes with approval the recent declaration of the Archbishop of York that the progress of the human mind is from vagueness toward precision, and adds: 'The letter before us seems an illustration of this tendency. Instead of leaving the subject to half informed sceptics on the one hand and hazy lecturers of the Victoria Institute on the other, the writer seeks to confer quantitive precision on the action of the Supernatural in nature. His proposal is so fair, and his modes of stating it so able and conciliatory, that I could not, when asked to do so, refuse to give it the support implied by these few lines of 'introduction.'

Sallie's Bedtime

A father, not very far from here, says a writer under the cognomen of "B Dadd" in the Norristown, P, Herald, read in the paper the other morning that the "Utica girls who want their beaux to go home the same night they call, pull a string at the proper hour, which reverses a picture, on the back of which appear the words 'Ten o clock is my bedtime.'"

This father, who has a daughter given to late hours when a certain youth sits up and helps her to keep them, thought he would try this Utica plan, so he wrote in large characters on the back of a huge portrait of George Washington this inscription

"10 O CLOCK IS SALLIE'S BEDTIME"

Then he arranged the picture so that when he attached a string to the frame, he could reverse it from his bed chamber. But when Sallie entered the room an hour later, her æsthetic eye was outraged by observing the portrait of George hanging slightly out of plumb, so to speak, and in adjusting it, her father's little game was revealed in all its subtle ingenuity

Sallie was not a Utica girl, however, so she just went to work and neatly effaced the figure "0," leaving the 1 standing solitary and upright—which, you will observe, made a few hours difference in her bedtime. That night, as usual, Sallie received a visit from her young man—which his front name it is Henry—and her paternal parent attached his string to G. W.'s portrait and retired to his downy couch.

About ten o'clock while Henry and Sallie were deeply absorbed in some knotty problem, with their heads so contiguous that you couldn't insert a piece of tissue paper between them, the Father of his Country suddenly turned his face to the wall as if he was ashamed to gaze upon such doings. Henry, with a sudden start, glanced at the picture, and saw the handwriting on the wall, as it were, which read "one o'clock is Sallie's bedtime." Then Henry looked at Sallie with an interrogation in his eye, which was prettily dispelled by the fair maid murmuring, "It's all right." Henry said of course it was all right—that he had long known one o'clock was her bedtime, and he thought it was plenty late enough, too, for a young girl to be out of bed, but what business, he said, had George Washington's portrait to be flopping about that way? Then Sallie explained and the twain resumed work on the problem, Henry putting his arms round Sallie to prevent her falling off the chair

Meanwhile the old man was listening for the front door to open, and his would-be son-in-law's footsteps pattering over the pavement with the toes of his boots pointing from the house. These sounds not falling on his ears, and thinking maybe the old thing didn't work right, he gave the string another pull, and George W again faced the audience. Then he listened, but heard no footsteps, nothing but a peculiar sound, something resembling the popping of champagne corks.

Then he grew cross and gave the string another jerk, causing G W to turn about with a violent suddenness, just as if he was out of humor, too.

And still all is quiet below—except that popping sound.

Then the string was pulled again—and again—and again—indicating that the old fellow was just ready to explode with rage. And for fully fifteen minutes did he have the portrait of the man who could not tell a lie turning excited flip-flaps and things on the wall, like a bewitched gymnast, until he fell asleep exhausted—Sallie's father fell asleep, not the portrait

Henry kissed Sallie good night at 1 o'clock A M, remarking, as he did so, that it would seem like a long weary year ere he could see her again—because, you know, he did not expect to see her again until the evening of that day

The next morning her father examined that portrait, and when he fully understood the situation he was pained. He shed a silent tear, detached the string, sponged out the inscription, and walked away with the weight of forty five years on his shoulders—that being his age. He says a girl who would go back on her father that way would just as lief as not disgrace her parents by marrying a Congressman

FRIDAY MORNING SEPT [illegible] 1872

Inconsistency

Some [illegible] ago the Herald printed some thing [illegible] and fling[illegible] that it was a poser

> One day [illegible] can't go for Greeley [illegible] was bitter against that sec[illegible] the war the next day they declare [illegible] them people can support Greeley [illegible] sympath[illegible] with the rebel archives to prove it

These [illegible] inconsistent [illegible] the admitte[d] [illegible] both are undeniably true and the inconsistency is Greeley's own For before the rebellion broke out he wrote labored articles in defense of the right of secession and then after the war began he published the most furious and truculent articles against the seceders, demanding their extermination, and crying 'On to Richmond!' A few days after Lincoln's first election, when the Southern States were threatening to secede, Greeley wrote and published in the Tribune

> If the cotton States shall decide that they can do better out of the Union than in it we insist on letting them go in peace Whenever any considerable section of our Union shall deliberately resolve to go out, we shall resist all coercive measures designed to keep it in We hope never to live in a Republic whereof one section is pinned to the residue by bayonets

When Frank Blair was a candidate for Vice President in 1868 he made a speech in which he referred to the above secession sentiments uttered by Greeley, and declared that such utterances from such a journal as the Tribune, were, as the Southern people thought, a positive assurance that they could 'go in peace,' and that secession would not be followed by war Blair read the above words and said "Words were never uttered more fatal than those to the country Who is more directly responsible than Greeley for the blood which has been spilled throughout the land?"

After Greeley had incited the South to secession, he began his howlings for war on those who had taken his advice, and his clamor, 'On to Richmond,' led to the defeat and useless slaughter at the first battle of Bull Run After that disaster he had a fit of penitence and remorse which kept him for some time from meddling in military matters, though he considers himself as a strategist far superior to Grant, Von Moltke and every other military leader. In 1864 he fell into despondency, he was ready to give up the country in despair, the war was not prosperous, Lincoln was incompetent, and Grant and Sherman were too slow Greeley therefore wanted to offer peace to the Confederates He went to Niagara, consulted with the rebel agents, and begged Lincoln to permit him to buy a peace by paying the rebels four hundred millions of dollars for their slaves The exact nature of this discreditable negotiation has recently come out through the publication of the rebel archives. It is a shameful record. That his course was crooked and inconsistent from the beginning to the end is apparent. That two statements of his conduct at different periods, or even, not infrequently, at the same time, are inconsistent with each other, is only, in his case tolerable evidence that both are true He is only consistent in being inconsistent

Signs and Portents

The New York Herald, which has been supporting Greeley for some time, begins to think that the prospects of the Philosopher are looking rather blue. It says

> Whatever the causes, it is apparent on all sides that, since the late North Carolina election, there has been a reaction in the tide of public opinion on the Presidential question From the Baltimore Convention, which proclaimed the Cincinnati liberal republican candidates, Greeley and Brown, the democratic ticket and the Cincinnati liberal resolutions, the democratic platform, down to the election in North Carolina, there were such signs and manifestations of a general popular uprising in favor of "Greeley, Brown, and reform" as to justify the impression that we are in the midst of an irresistible political revolution

The Herald, always quick to discuss the signs of the times, finds that this sudden flushing up of Democratic enthusiasm is now dying out It says that, among the Democracy,

> The fear is gaining ground that the republicans brought over to the democracy in support of Greeley and Brown, may be outnumbered by these old line Bourbon democrats, who are resolved to vote for Grant or to stay at home on election day if they cannot get a straight out democratic ticket on the platform of "the time honored democratic principles of Jefferson and Jackson

After a somewhat long review of the field, the Herald concludes that, "from the present outlook the prospect from every point of view is growing glorious for Greeley, and that unless he can speedily make a break in the compact lines of the Republican party he may as well be getting ready to bid farewell to his Presidential aspirations"

That wonderful newspaper, the Democratic Era, published at East Portland, is sure that Charles O'Conor will remain a consistent and true Democrat, and will give no countenance to the Louisville Convention If it would only notice the current news it would discover that O Conor has avowed himself wholly in sympathy with the Convention, pledged the movement his support and announced that he would do anything to promote it except receiving the nomination This last he could not do, but he repudiated the Baltimore sale and would work for the straight Democracy

The East Portland Era hails the nomination of Judge Shattuck, is delighted with him as a "Liberal Republican," and says that he "has the respect of his own party" Under ordinary circumstances we might congratulate the Judge on this, but it is doubtful whether he should be congratulated on having the 'respect' of a party which, as far as heard from, consists of Hank Jones and the party of the name of Matlock

One of the things to be investigated is the State printing The manner in which this work is done has, of late, become a scandal The printing is invariably executed in such a style as to spread it unconscionably, and the State is fleeced to an enormous extent The Legislature at the coming session should order a careful supervision of this work and compel a retrenchment to proper limits

If the Legislature does its duty the people of this city will not much longer be fleeced by the litigant bill The "organ" has been drawing from $100 to $200 a week from the city treasury regularly of late, under this swindle besides considerable sums from individuals

A Democratic contemporary thinks it a shame that our State Judges are so severely overworked and ridiculously underpaid "If censure is to fall let Gov Grover catch it Didn't he veto the bill to pay them more"

A correspondent writes that some persons are 'fishing' in the head waters of the Wallamet with giant powder We trust the Legislature will provide a suitable penalty for such vandalism

Stunning old majorities are now to be the [illegible] Vermont has opened the ball Maine come in next week

Amusing Speech

An old line Democrat of [illegible] Hon Jose[illegible], has been instructing and entertaining the people of that State with his plain spoken views of the Presidential candidates We will quote some of the passages that particularly strike us as pointed and sharp, and instructive He [illegible] a parallel between Grant and [illegible] exceedingly rich [illegible] He declares that Greeley is a [illegible] man and not worthy to be trusted Then he proceeds as follows

[illegible] Democrats come to me and say 'Why [illegible] what's the use of bolting Here you have the State ticket, all Democrats, here you have the county ticket all Democrat and what if there are a couple of men on the ticket that are not Democrats You must not expect every thing just as you want it

It reminds me of some fellows that went out a hunting They came in in the evening and one had a squirrel another a pheasant another venison and another quail They prepared to cook their supper One threw in the quail another threw in venison another threw in pheasant and another threw squirrel in the pot and, in order that they might have a good dish another threw in skunk—and he threw it in without cleaning The men said 'What have you thrown in' He replied I 'have thrown in skunk They said 'Why, great God, we don't want any skunk!' He replied 'you have quail, venison, squirrel and pheasant four things you do like, and you must be satisfied with one thing you do not like and you must take skunk I don't take it That's not my particular style of doing When I see a man like Horace Greeley put up for office—a man who favored secession, a man who has trampled upon the party with which I have been associated for years I tell you then I don't take him without he shows signs of penitence

He next shows that Greeley always claimed to be a Republican, and never was anything else and never would have any Democracy about him

He denounced Democrats throughout the land as a set of common liars Was that true? He denounced you as belonging to the penitentiaries and go through your bawdy houses and sweep all your gambling hells, that the men you would find there would be Democrats Was that true? But you say that you said a great many things harsh about Horace Greeley So you did You said he was a disturber of the common peace Was that true? You said he was a disunionist Was that true? You said he was doing all he could to break up the Government Was that true? Now did Horace Greeley lie, or did the Democrats lie Or, did you both lie? Or did you both tell the truth about each other? If you did what a magnificent assortment of scamps you are God and angels and men ought to look down on you with approval, as the moral world is purer because you live, because you absorb all the stinking things there are around you

He added

Greeley never was a Democrat in all his life Grant was once Grant never said anything against the Democrats Greeley spoke against them constantly, uniformly, meanly, violently You Democrats who go for Greeley think if you elect him that you may use him I don't know about that but I don't believe you can I think you will be badly fooled He is not much of a Democrat He is like a woodchuck that went back to his hole and found a skunk in it That skunk insisted that he was a woodchuck "Well, says he, you don't act like a woodchuck nor you don't look like a woodchuck, nor you don't smell like a woodchuck

And if Greeley acts or speaks or writes like a Democrat, I would like to know when or where. I would like to know when or where he has endorsed the Democratic party in any shape or form

Then again

Now in political matters I would like for any gentleman to tell me what Grant has recommended to Congress that Greeley has not endorsed I am thirsting to know what public measure Grant recommended that Greeley didn't stand by Greeley was death for the Ku-Klux bill Why, he just went for wiping those fellows entirely out of existence, and now these Southern traitors would come up and butt all the hair off their heads against the part which his mother used to spank What advantage then, has Greeley over Grant?

POLITICAL NOTES

Austin Blair has been nominated by the Democrats for Governor of Michigan Well he's got his reward for being a reformer To be sure the nomination is as far he'll get, but it's full as much as his services are worth.

In Toledo the Liberal Republicans and Democrats met in Convention to nominate Congressmen They lay down side by side in harmony, but couldn't agree when they came to business and broke up in disgust They seem to have a little principle in that part of the country

They have found another new planet, the one hundred and twenty fourth asteroid No name has yet been given to it Anything outlandish will do

OREGON

Salem merchants are anticipating a lively fall trade

Several members of the Legislature have already arrived at the Capital

The brick work on the agricultural works at Salem will be finished in [illegible] weeks

Four applicants for admission to the bar were examined before the Supreme Court at Salem on Wednesday last

The biennial reports of the Secretary of State and State Treasurer have been printed and are now in the hands of the State Printer

A friend at Pendleton under date of the [illegible] inst, says "We are having a nice rain which cools the air lays the dust and makes everybody happy

The lumbering and coal trade of Coos Bay in the southern portion of this State, is said to be languishing for want of sufficient tonnage to carry off the products of the district

In a business letter written at Pendleton Umatilla county the writer adds that there are a great many Democrats at that place who will not vote for Greeley and that he (Greeley) will get none of the Republican votes

THE TERRITORIES

Every carpenter, mason, painter and glazier in Olympia is employed

The only vessels at Olympia on the [illegible] inst were a scow and the steamboat [illegible]

A meeting for the purpose of forming a Farmers' Club is to be held at Boise City on the [illegible] instant

A man lately fell a distance of 300 feet down a mining shaft near Silver City, Idaho and was instantly killed

Capt R O O'Brien of Olympia accidentally cut his foot with an ax making a severe wound on last Thursday

An Alaskan says that what the women of [illegible] know about 'sealing' would be invaluable in Russian America

Some settlers are going from the western part of Washington Territory to Cedar Valley, which lies east of the Cascade Mountains

Shipley and Brown, the notorious land pirates of the Puget Sound country, have again been heard from, this time at Kittitas Valley

Many beautiful residences are now in course of erection in Salt Lake City, the greater portion of them being built by the Gentiles, showing that the Gentile element is on the increase

Mr Hallett, contractor on the N P R R in Washington Territory, has his 30 mile section graded and is ready with men and teams to put down the ties, lay the iron and gravel the road

The Boise Statesman says There is strong talk of dividing the territory composing Idaho and Nez Perces counties so as to make the county seat of the former at Mount Idaho, on Camas Prairie, instead of at Warrens

The Colorado Steam Navigation Co's steamer Mohave, plying between the mouth of the Colorado river and Fort Yuma, got into a ripple on the 16th inst, and lost her smoke stack, pilot house and part of her boiler deck

One day last week the fires burning in the woods near Hallett's camp came very near burning his bridges and trestle work The fire took hold several times but on each occasion was discovered in time to be extinguished

The Arizona Citizen says If the diamond stories are true in the main, we have many reasons for believing that the excitement is based upon stones found near and probably in the northeastern part of Arizona

Owing to work at the Seattle coal mines being renewed, there is an appearance of greater activity at Sehome than has been witnessed for months past Although there are not just now any vessels at that port, an immense amount of coal is being raised and sorted and got into the shute in readiness for shipping

The Olympia Tribune of the 4th instant says "We learn that a new steamboat route is to be established, having Tumwater and Oakland as its terminal points There is a project, which will in all probability be fully carried out, to put the steamer Chehalis on between Tumwater at this end, and Oakland, at the head of Big Skookum Bay, at the other, touching regularly at Olympia and Arcada, and at every other place wherever there may be a call From Oakland to Union City a stage will run, making, with the steamer, regular tri weekly trips from this place and Tumwater to Hood's Canal

The Arizona Citizen of August 10th, says A lively scout is being made by the troops in and about the Huachuca mountain Lieutenants Hall and Stewart, at Crittenden, have recently been prospecting that locality with a citizen named Gabena, for guide, and are convinced that the savages are there in force Lieutenant Hall requested the co operation of Lieutenant Bendire First Cavalry, stationed on the Rillito and on Saturday the latter started with a force of at least fifty, and probably sixty men to join the former at Crittenden, so it is presumed they are now out with about eighty men

A prominent Arizona diamond hunter who visited Sacramento a few days ago, had several specimens of his own collection. The Record says he does not however believe they are real diamonds, and says they can be gathered by the quart among the ant hills of Arizona He states that he has specimens that will weigh two pounds each The specimens will not cut glass but will withstand the action of an ordinary file The gentleman who brought these specimens to the city visited Arizona with a party of seventeen men two of whom were killed by the Indians He designs to return to the diamond fields for further explorations

Political Calendar

The following are the principal political events to occur during the remainder of this year in this country

Sept 9—Maine, election of Governor and Congressmen
10—Colorado election of Delegate to Congress
11—Kansas Liberal Republican and Democratic State Convention
11—Maryland, Democratic Conservative State Convention at Baltimore
11 Massachusetts, Democratic State Convention at Worcester

Nov 5—Presidential election State elections in Alabama Arkansas Delaware Florida Georgia, Illinois Kansas Louisiana Maryland Massachusetts Michigan, Minnesota New Jersey, New York, Tennessee Virginia and Wisconsin
6 Arizona, election of Delegate to Congress
27 District of Columbia election of Delegate to Congress
30—Texas election of Congressmen

THE HOME OF HIS BOYHOOD—The broad farce of Greeley's visit to his native land is well shown up in a brief paragraph by the Boston Traveller which says

> Greeley's deep affection for the neighborhood of his nativity may be judged by the fact that he did not visit that neighborhood at all He first went to Concord and after consultation with his supporters there [illegible] to Bradford forty miles from the place of his birth but attractive to him because it is the residence of the leading Liberal of the State From there he went to Lancaster the home of the Chairman of the thin New Hampshire delegation at Cincinnati A deep seated affection for childhood's home and childhood's friends would have led his footsteps in another direction He had a perfect right to go where he was inclined to go but it is only just that the purpose of his visit to his native State should be understood As he himself intimated in his Hampton speech it is duty imperative duty, that has called him to make this journey not deep affection for the scenes of his childhood

THE TWO CANDIDATES—In his eloquent and unanswerable speech at Worcester Mass United States Attorney General George F Hoar said

> Is there anything in the Republican record which any Republican would blot out Is there anything in the Democratic record which any honest Democrat would not wish to blot out How [illegible] the two candidates [illegible] the South [illegible] them Greeley [illegible] Grant destr[illegible] Greeley [illegible] the slave owners from the [illegible] Grant would [illegible] more than any other man in the country [illegible] responsible [illegible] Henry Vicksburg, Appomattox [illegible] Greeley [illegible] divide him from asserting his own constitutional rights and recognize a dominant race as still existing under the Constitution Grant would enforce for him those rights which every citizen ought to have

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 6, 1872.

Strap Gamblers.—Two of those highly useful and ornamental members of society, yclept "strap gamblers," attempted to practice their little game yesterday while the steamer Fannie Troup was on her way from Kalama to this city. These enterprising gents succeeded in fleecing a victim out of $40, but did not manage to keep that amount very long. It seems that two members of the strap game took passage on the boat at Kalama, yesterday, bound for this city. With that instinctive sagacity, common with gentlemen of that honorable profession, they soon discovered that a "greeney" was on board, and destined for the same point. He was approached in the most insinuating manner possible, and after a good deal of scientific "feeling" and "pumping," the thieves at length induced him to take a hand in the fascinating game. "Greeney took several hands in the very innocent appearing sport, and soon found that $40 had passed from his palms into the pockets of the fleecers. He then woke up to the sad reality that he had been robbed. He accused the fleecers of robbing him, and asked them to "fork over;" but they protested that it was perfectly fair; they had won his cash, and didn't propose to part with it either. "Greeny," in despair, went to the Captain of the boat and laid the matter before him. That officer promised to see about it when the boat arrived at Portland. When the steamer reached this port, the Captain took the green chap before the thieves, and confronting the three, asked for a statement of the facts. The green chap told his story, and concluded by saying that if they did not disgorge his cash mighty fast, he'd give them an introduction to a gentleman with a star on his left breast. The thieves found themselves cornered. They handed him over the amount demanded, and gave him the gratuitous advice, that the "next time he bet, not to back out in that way." "Greeny" pocketed his coin, and walked off with the impression that there is more wickedness in this world than people are willing to admit.

Nearly a Collision.—The outward bound passenger train on the Oregon Central Railroad, narrowly escaped a collision last Wednesday morning. A construction train started from the depot and passed along up the track without any difficulty. About an hour later, the regular passenger train started southward. It appears that soon after the construction train passed up the track, two large fir trees standing on a certain point near the road, which had been on fire for several days, fell across the track. Neither those on board the construction train, nor the passenger train, knew of the fact. A man passing, accidentally along, discovered the trees, and knew in a moment that the coming train was in imminent danger. He hastened with all possible speed to the first station this side and apprised the Conductor of the danger ahead. By this means a fearful railroad disaster was avoided, as the trees were laying in such a portion of the road that the engineer would not in all probability see the threatened danger until it was too late to avoid a collision. It was some eight or ten miles beyond the city to where the trees fell. After some labor and delay the obstructions were removed and the train proceeded to its destination. The escape was narrow and the results of such a collision are not pleasant to contemplate.

Overboard.—A gentleman, whose name we did not learn, while engaged at work on the Oregon Steam Navigation Company's wharf yesterday forenoon, was accidentally pushed backwards into the river. He immediately sank but rose in a moment. Every one who witnessed the accident was so excited that they did not come to his rescue as soon as they might, and he was allowed to sink again. He went down and rose badly strangled. By this time a man procured a long pole on the wharf, and, as he sank for the third time, thrust one end down into the water. Fortunately the drowning man grasped the stick with one hand, and by that means was rescued. As soon as he was drawn up on the wharf he fell over and remained insensible for some time. He was restored to consciousness after some time, and was able to resume work in a few hours after the occurrence.

Geographical Mistake.—The official who resides at Hong Kong, China, and whose duty it is to make out the clearance papers for vessels sailing from that port, must certainly possess some very confused ideas of the geographical situation of Oregon. Nearly every vessel which has left there for Portland has had the following destination marked in her clearance, over the official signature of the officer there; that such and such a vessel is entitled to carry so many passengers and so much freight, to the "Port of Portland, situated in the State of California, United States of America." We are perfectly willing to admit the last portion of that proposition, namely, that Portland is situated some where in the wilds of North America; but we protest that this city is not in that exact latitude marked on the atlas as "California." Geography peddlers ought to do a flourishing business at Hong Kong.

City Cisterns and Street Lamps.—From the appendix to the city charter, ordinances and regulations, just published, we gather the following statistics in regard to the light and water which is furnished in this city at the public expense. These figures show that the levying of high taxes has not been done to squander upon office holders altogether, but to furnish these things rendered necessary by the rapid growth of our city. But few persons, we imagine, know that there are in Portland thirty-six cisterns, having an aggregate capacity of 572,000 gallons, which are to be kept in order and supplied with water—or that there are 189 street lamps, 94 gas and 95 oil lamps, which are or should be kept burning every night. But such is the case and all these things go to show the growth of the city as well as to swell the amount of tax which the people have to pay.

A Man Cut.—We learn from parties down the river, that a stabbing affair occurred at Cathlamet last Tuesday night. The row took place in a saloon, but recently started at that place, and seemed to have been among the first unpleasant fruits resulting from its establishment. One man, whose name we did not learn, was severely cut in the neck with a knife, in the hands of another party. The wound was inflicted on the right side of the neck and was of such a character that it was necessary to bandage the man's head so that he could not move either head or neck. To open the cut afresh would, in all probability, result fatally. Several persons were involved in the drunken brawl, but no one else was injured. No arrests were made at latest accounts, and the wounded man's condition is still considered critical.

Didn't Keep His Seat.—Throughout the summer a stove has stood in the postoffice in this city, of course most of the time without any fire in it, and many persons waiting for their mail would occasionally sit down on it. Yesterday we noticed a Rev. gentleman, well known all over the State, who having taken some letters from his box, was waiting for the rest of his mail, and thinking to read his letters, took a seat upon the aforesaid stove. But the day being a little cool a fire had been built in the stove, and the clerical base was changed in just about one sixteenth of a second. Just the amount of damage done to the gentleman's pantaloons we cannot say, but we noticed that his reverence gave the rear portion of them a very sudden brushing.

Tualatin River Navigation Company.—A meeting of the Directors of the above named was held yesterday, and some reports of the progress of the work of the company were made, which speak very favorable for the success of the enterprise now on hand. The Oswego Canal will be fully completed within twenty days, when the company propose to begin the construction of a steering mill and warehouse at Oswego, which will be pushed through till finished. The company is in excellent condition financially, not owing a dollar, and everything is favorable for the success in an undertaking, which will greatly inure to the benefit of a large section of the country on the west side of the river.

Grading.—An astonishing change has been wrought in the appearance of Fourth street above Jefferson, since the commencement of work along that street to bring it to the established grade. The street has been graded down to a level with the track opposite St. Mary's Academy, and the lower part of the street two blocks north of that point is being rapidly filled up, several feet above the former grade of the street. Meantime the work is being vigorously prosecuted.

Scalded.—From the Era we learn that Mrs. Morris, a lady living at the corner of Second and J streets, East Portland, was very badly scalded one day during the past week by the upsetting of a vessel containing some very hot water. Her legs were burnt to a blister from the knees down to the feet, and in many places the flesh is completely cooked. A physician was called in immediately, and the remedies usual in such cases applied.

Change of Agency.—Public attention is solicited to the new advertisement of the O. C. Woolen Co. in our columns elsewhere. Large quantities of the best articles of cassimeres, doeskins, tweeds, flannels, etc., etc., which are manufactured at the woolen mills at Oregon City, are sent to San Francisco and made there into all styles, and descriptions of ready made clothing are sent by every steamer to this city, and offered for sale by Messrs. Jacobs Bros. & Co., the sole agents in Portland for the Oregon City Woolen Mills. The manufacturing company have established a depot here with that firm.

Reduction of Rates.—By the dispatches it will be seen that the Central Pacific Railroad Co. will issue commutation tickets, making the fair half price to and from all points on the road to San Joaquin Valley Agricultural Fair which opens at Stockton next week. There has been no intimation as yet, that a similar reduction of rates will be made by the Oregon and California Railroad Company over its lines during the continuance of the State Fair, to commence on the last of the present month. Such a reduction of fare will be certain to insure an immense travel to and fro which would not otherwise be.

Surveying Party.—A surveying party, under the superintendence of Colonel W. W. Chapman and engineer Blair, will start in a few days from the Dalles. The object of the party is to make some of the preliminary surveys along the line of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad. The initial point will be at or near the Dalles, and the surveys will extend, probably, through to Salt Lake.

Social Visit.—Lodges No. 1 and 7, of Champions of the Red Cross, paid a social visit to the members of Lodge No. 2, in East Portland, on Wednesday evening. About fifty young ladies and gentlemen went from this city. Several hours were agreeably spent in a sort of social re union, when the visiting party returned to this side about ten o'clock.

Query for Everybody.—Where do all the Home Shuttle Machines go to that arrive in this city? Passing the office last evening we noticed several large cases being unloaded from one of Holman Bro's. drays. Mr. Traver received fifty more of these favorite machines per Ajax—making 206 which have arrived within the last thirty days.

Oregon Presbytery.—The Presbytery for Oregon and Washington Territory, will convene this morning at the First Presbyterian Church in this city. A sermon was preached last evening to a large intelligent audience. Divine services will be held at the church to-morrow and Sunday evenings.

Netted.—The sum of about one hundred and thirty dollars was realized at the festival and concert held at the Presbyterian Church last Wednesday evening by the young ladies of the Sunday School. That amount will be appropriated for the benefit of "The Home."

Returned.—The steamer Fannie Troup brought up from Kalama yesterday about ninety Chinamen. Work being gradually suspended along the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad several gangs have been discharged until the resumption of work next spring.

Where are the Plumbers?—By reference to the Council proceedings of last Wednesday evening, it will be seen that no bids for the contract to erect several fire hydrants were received. Where are the men who do such jobs?

Committee Meeting.—There will be a meeting of the Finance Committee of the Woman Suffrage Association, this evening, at the residence of Mrs. Thompson, to make a report and transact other important business.

Removal.—Messrs. Parrish, Watkins & Cornel have removed their Real Estate and General Agency office from their old stand to the new brick building at the corner of Stark and Front streets.

At Mount Zion.—A few days ago the pupils of Mr. George Hanson's school, in connection with a number of their friends, had a very pleasant picnic at the above mentioned place.

New Postmaster.—Mr. Cyrus Smith recently received the appointment of Postmaster at Amity, Yamhill county. His commission arrived a few days ago from Washington.

Portland Academy.—The first term of this institution for the present academical year commences September 9th, with a full and competent faculty.

Time of Sailing.—The steamer Ajax is announced to sail from this port for San Francisco, to-morrow (Saturday) morning at 7 o'clock.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

PERSONAL, LOCAL AND GENERAL.

[From the Advocate.]

The first quarterly meeting for the Puget Sound District will be held at Vancouver, September 14th and 15th, J. F. DeVore, P. E.

Rev. J. L. Chattin, transferred from the New Jersey, Conference, arrived by the last steamer, with his family, and will proceed immediately to his appointment on the Warm Springs Reservation.

Through a suggestion of Mr. H. H. Northrup, at the Ames Chapel Concert last Sabbath, it was decided by the friends of the school to add to the library, which is now a good one for so small a school.

Rev. J. Wesley Miller, who has been so greatly bereaved during his brief stay in Oregon, has been compelled to take a transfer East. He will leave on the next steamer, taking his daughter with him. Bro. Miller receives the hearty sympathies of all his brethren.

Rev. T. A. Wood, of Dayton, was taken quite ill while at Salem attending the Conference. He is still confined to his room at Dr. Skiff's, but under the skillful treatment of Dr. Payton and the kind attention of friends, he is now improving and will be out again in a few days.

Rev. H. K. Hines, Presiding Elder of Walla Walla District, requests us to give the following notices: There will be church meetings in conjunction with the quarterly meetings at Klikitat, commencing September 19th; also at Yakima, under the charge of Rev. J. H. Wilbur, at the same time, and near Weston on the Walla Walla circuit, commencing September 26th.

PERSONAL.

The jovial countenance of Captain Crandall, of the Statesman, illuminated our sanctum last evening for a brief time.

W. O. C. Stebbins, builder of the new Mint in San Francisco, and Capt. Finch, of Olympia, are stopping at the St. Charles.

Rev. A. L. Lindsley, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, returned to this city from a visit to the Sound country and Olympia on Tuesday evening.

H. C. Comegys, Esq., late Deputy Postmaster at Amity, Yamhill county, is now in this city. He has retired and will soon go to Washington Territory, probably to locate permanently on Lewis River.

Hon. W. D. Hare, of Washington county, Fred. D. Hard, District Postal Agent of Washington Territory, and Geo. Coggan, proprietor of the stage line between Pumphrey's and Olympia, are now in this city.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Macbeth" will be produced at Oro Fino Theater to-morrow evening on the occasion of the reopening of that place of amusement, under the management of Mr. George B. Waldron. The company to appear will consist of twenty-three persons, nine of whom arrived on the last steamer. Among the new arrivals we observe the names of Mrs. Stewart, an actress of acknowledged talent, and one of the most accomplished "Lady Macbeths" ever on the Pacific coast, J. H. Vinson, a great favorite with this public, Mr. Pearcy, a talented and accomplished young tragedian, Mr. Crosbie, a young actor of artistic abilities, and several others. The company will include all the members composing the Waldron Troupe, and will be the largest and best array of histrionic talent ever appearing before in the city.

Messrs. Jacobs Bros. & Co. advertise on our third page their large and splendid stock of goods at their new clothing establishment, No. 51 Front street, corner Oak. This firm are the only exclusively wholesale dealers in Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods in the city. They have now on hand, and are in constant receipt of the largest and best selected stock ever offered to this public, all of which they offer to sell at the lowest San Francisco wholesale prices. Read their advertisement.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Thermometer yesterday 55°, 65°, 59°.

A harmless runaway occurred yesterday.

But two drunks yesterday in the Police Court.

The smoke has about disappeared for the present.

Members of the Legislature are becoming as thick as blackberries.

The steamer Mary Wilkins made her trial trip yesterday down the river.

The remains of the late Isaac E. Smith were buried yesterday at Monticello.

The steamer Emma brought to this city Wednesday evening a number of emigrants.

A few stray streaks of sunshine were precipitated yesterday on this lower world.

The wires were down south of Canyonville last night, so that we are without our usual last night's dispatches.

Three years ago Samuel Bowles, of the Springfield Republican, Vice President Schuyler Colfax, and ex-Gov. Bross arrived in this city, and were received with appropriate public demonstrations, in front of the Cosmopolitan Hotel. The party remained here several days.

SPECIAL CHURCH NOTICES.

Divine services are held at the Insane Asylum every Sabbath in the Chapel or assembly room.

Rev. William Roberts will preach at the Hall street M. E. Church on Sabbath morning and evening next at the usual hours.

The Right Rev. B. Wistar Morris, D. D., will officiate and preach at the opening services of the grammar school on Sunday morning, September 8th. Services begin at 10½ o'clock.

There will be religious services in the Norwegian language, by request of the officers and crews of the Norwegian vessels now in port, at the Scandinavian Evangelical Lutheran Church in East Portland, next Sunday, at 10:30 A. M. Sabbath school in English at 2 o'clock. Religious services in English at 3 o'clock as usual.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

COUNTY COURT—HAMILTON, J.

THURSDAY, Sept. 5th, 1872.

COMMISSIONERS.

Ordered that the monthly statements in detail of the amount of receipts and disbursements of public money be furnished this Court on the first day of each regular term by the Treasurer and Clerk respectively, and that all parties paying funds into the Treasury, belonging to the county or State be required to take duplicate receipts therefor, one of which he is required to file with the Clerk.

IN LAW.

H. C. Hill vs. J. S. Keller; suit to abate a nuisance; jury empanneled and cause now on trial.

IN PROBATE.

In the matter of the estate of James G. Flowerdew, deceased: petition of J. R. Dawson, executor of said estate, for sale of partnership assets at private sale; petition allowed.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—FIELD, DEADY, J.

THURSDAY, Sept. 5th, 1872.

David McCuen, et al, vs. Annie M. Small. Appeal. Decree in favor of libellants below affirmed with costs.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

At the top of the two last columns on the third page of this paper will be seen the advertisement of Jacobs Bros. & Co., of this city. This firm is the first exclusive clothing and furnishing goods establishment in Portland. Jacobs Bros. & Co. manufacture their clothing in New York of Eastern goods, 39 Warren street. The Oregon City Woolen Mill send their cassimere and flannels to San Francisco for manufacture, and sell ready-made clothing of their own manufacture through Jacobs Bros. & Co., their agents. Read their advertisement.

We call special attention to the auction sale this morning at Schloss & Son's. Twenty-four stoves of all styles and patterns, will be disposed of. A rare chance.

Montgomery Guard Attention.—A special meeting of the members is called for this evening at 8 o'clock. By order of THE CAPTAIN.

Nature Gives us Teeth—But she does not preserve and purify them. That must be done by fragrant SOZODONT. The dental bone and its enamel casing are made invulnerable to all destructive influences by the daily use of this beneficent preparation. S4

PORTLAND, July 24, 1872.

GEO. W. TRAVER,
Agent Home Shuttle Sewing Machine,
112 Front street, Portland,

Sir—For nearly two years I have been using the Home Shuttle Sewing Machine, and its operation has always been all that could be desired. The machine is excellent in every respect. Its simplicity of construction, ease and excellence of operation should win for it general favor.

MRS. H. W. SCOTT.

Fishel & Roberts,
Corner Washington and First streets

All in One.—Quinn, the indefatigable, has made a new move. The First street stand has been closed and his up-town customers will find him at his old stand, where many improvements have been made. If you want Game, Fish, or anything that is good, go to Quinn's Union Fish Market, Washington street, between Second and Third.

The old saying is, "What everybody says must be true," and everyone says that Beck & Waldman have the largest and best selected stock of the latest styles and patterns in gentlemen's Clothing and Furnishing Goods in the city of Portland. They have the largest variety of Boy's, Youth's, and Children's Suits, all which will be sold according to the times. Please call and satisfy yourself that we will not be undersold by anyone.

BECK & WALDMAN,
Corner Front and Washington streets.

Mechanical tinkering cannot arrest the decomposition of the teeth. Nothing will do this but the pure disinfectant and preservative, which under the name of SOZODONT, has become a staple of the toilet throughout the world. S3

Cannot be Excelled.—There has been a decided change in personnel of the photographic establishment of Joseph Buchtel, by the presence of Mr. E. H. Stolte as a partner with Mr. Buchtel. Mr. Carl Sears, the famous artist, continues to transfer physiognomies to plate in a manner that meets with general approval. Messrs. Buchtel & Stolte have on exhibition daily at the entrance to the Gallery, Corbett's Building, First street, between Washington and Alder, the finest display of work in their particular line ever produced in the State, and in the East it would be difficult to find anything to excel it. The firm and those connected with it need no words of praise. The work they produce is the best endorsement any gallery could have.

Talking of big stocks of Clothing, have you seen the counters and shelves in the building occupied by Jos. Kohn & Co., 84 Front street. If you have not then waste no time, but accept the first opportunity to call and examine the largest assortment of Clothing ever displayed in Portland. They have goods to fit the poor. They have goods for the rich. Their prices are fixed to suit the times. They treat you well, and in short you can't leave Kohn & Co's without having ordered a complete suit from the grand array of Fall Goods offered by this firm.

Nature's Appeals for Help.
Every indication of debility and exhaustion is a mute appeal of Nature for medicinal aid to arrest the progress of decay. How are these silent appeals of physical weakness to the resources of the healing art usually met? Too often, unfortunately, the drugs prescribed aggravate the symptoms. Whoever recommends drastic purgatives, or mineral salivants or poisonous alkaloids, under such circumstances, is an ally of the ailment and an enemy of the patient. Whoever, on the contrary, advises the broken down and desponding sufferer to resort to that peerless vegetable invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for aid and comfort, is a true philanthropist. It is safe to say there never was an instance in which such advice was given and accepted without the best results. From the very depths of weakness, and despondency thousands have been restored to vigor, health and cheerfulness by the renovating operation of this wholesome stimulant and alterative. All its medicinal ingredients are remarkable for their sanative properties, and in combination form an absolute specific for indigestion, liver complaint, nervous affections, rheumatism, intermittent and remittent fevers, general and local weakness and every species of disorder incident to change of season or climate. The stimulative element of this invaluable protective or restorative is not an impure excitant, but the thoroughly rectified essence of sound rye, admitted by all good chemists to be the most healthful of exhilarants.

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

The Locomotive

They call me a mass of iron and brass
They say that a spirit I lack
That my real soul is the grimy man
In the wooden pen on my back
That the flame I devour and the steam in my veins
Are the creatures of man alone
And I have no mind but the mind of man
Those beings of flesh and bone

Let them say if they will and whatever they will Though had they but noted me when
I was scurrying over the iron rails
The wonder and pride of men
Had they watched as they might they'd have seen [illegible]
As I sped on my iron path
And a purpose of terror [illegible]
And aroused to a terrible wrath

I have borne their yoke in a patient way
For many a weary hour—
The pride that filled my massive breast
Forbade me use my power
But I am not always a passive thing
For I rever with joy I scream
As I rumble and clatter and scurry along
With my nostrils breathing steam

For when they are proudest to think me their slave
My patience a moment fails,
And then with a thousand wretches behind
I leap from the guiding rails
Over the lofty embankment's side
And plunge to the depths below
While the careless laugh of the people I draw
Is changed to the shrieks of woe

And so to-night, in the midnight deep,
With my glaring eye I peer
Through the darkness that covers the path before
And startle the engineer
For I whirl from side to side,
And I pant and strain, and scream with delight
Reverse down brakes! there's a tree on the track
And Death rides abroad to-night

Some are asleep in their seats and dream,
And others, in accents gay,
Are telling light stories of what they have seen
Or discussing the news of the day
And some are thinking of things long past
And others again there be
Who are longing to see their children and wives
In the homes they may never see.

A Wonderful Aerolite

The Evansville (Indiana) Courier of August 13 contains the following report of the fall of an aerolite near the residence of Captain Scott, in Benton county

According to Captain Scott's account he was returning from camp-meeting about 10 30 P M. The evening was cloudy and dark, with occasionally a little rain, and it was with difficulty he could distinguish the road across the fields which he was following Suddenly he was startled with a blinding glare of light that illuminated everything as far as the eye could reach with more than noonday radiance Simultaneously he heard a rushing sound as he describes, like a terrific gust of wind, and the next instant saw shooting vertically down wards a huge fiery ball that struck the earth but a few rods from where he was standing, with a deafening detonation and a shock like an earthquake Captain Scott owns to being badly frightened, and for a few moments stood motionless, completely at a loss to account for what had happened In the mean time a hissing noise came from the spot where the mysterious object had landed accompanied by a steam like vapor and a strong sulphurous odor The blinding light continued for full fifteen minutes, and before it had altogether subsided Captain Scott mustered up courage to make a closer investigation The aerolite was still smoking where it had fallen, and too hot to be removed but after considerable trouble a fragment of the substance with which the interior was filled was secured and may now be seen at the Courier office It has much the appearance of volcanic rock, but is considerably lighter being scarcely heavier than some of the more solid woods

Mixed Matters.—Our Eastern exchanges occasionally manage to get the news from this coast terribly mixed, but it is worse as we go across the Atlantic There they are even worse in their arrangement of the details of American news generally The London Times, for instance, has a writer who speaks of the "Province of St Louis, the 'State of Montana,'" and the "Territory of Memphis" It also asserts that Grant has at least one hundred and ninety electors, against seventy-six pledged to support his antagonist," and that "Connecticut and Vermont will probably go with New England States in the election, and he thinks, that "if the whole electoral vote of the Federation were put together to form a plebiscite," it would be a good thing

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Thursday Evening, Sept 5, 1872

Gold in New York to-day, 112⅞

Portland Legal Tender rates, 87½c buying; 88½ selling

The bark Helen W Almy went to sea Thursday in tow of the [illegible]. The Almy is bound for Vallejo She had on board 10,000 cases of salmon and 1,000 barrels and half barrels of the same.

The steamer Ajax arrived at port on Wednesday evening from San Francisco, with 800 tons of miscellaneous cargo.

The steamship Oriflamme will sail for this port from San Francisco to-morrow morning

The bark [illegible] having been relieved of her ballast and put in proper condition to receive a cargo of wheat, has been drawn alongside of Flanders' wharf.

The tug boat Astoria arrived from down the river this evening

No vessels are reported off the bar

The brig Pathfinder, bound for Honolulu is nearly rigged and a portion of her cargo has already been received.

As soon as the steamer Geo S Wright arrives from Gray's Harbor, she will be loaded with all possible dispatch for Sitka and way ports.

General trade is by no means active In a few lines there is a fair call for goods Leading houses are filling up well for the fall and winter trade Backwardness of grain movement retards the progress of business The [illegible] of goods moving off hardly equals expectation Money is stringent in the interior and settlements are slow. Holders of grain refuse to sell at present prices except in so far as necessity compels In cotton and woolen goods there are no changes to note in prices. In Hardware trade is lively and encouraging General prices in this line are unaltered. A fair trade is doing in Boots and Shoes, and fall stocks are on the market and en route. Merchants in all lines are looking forward to the opening of the fall [illegible]

Telegrams from San Francisco now contradict the statement sent from there yesterday to the effect that the bonds of the Oregon and California Railroad had gone to protest for non-payment of interest. The original statement seems to have been prompted by malice.

The steamship California cleared this afternoon for Victoria and Puget Sound, with the following cargo 180 sacks middlings 64 sacks chopped feed 23 sacks wheat, 20 nests tubs; 10 kegs dried apples 2,000 lbs bran 1,068 lbs [illegible]; 10 bbls pork 278 dozen eggs, 36 boxes green apples 95 sacks oats, 1 bale woolen goods 4 gunnies oatmeal

Domestic Produce.

WHEAT—New is coming in slowly Holders are not disposed to recede so as to meet the market Shippers would pay about $1 35 ⅌ 100 lbs for good shipping lots A slight improvement is noted in Liverpool and San Francisco markets, but freights rise at a rate to cover the advance in prices A number of vessels are under charter to load here for England, but the prospect is encouraging neither to shippers nor holders

FLOUR—Several orders are filled for Victoria and Puget Sound. Trade for local consumption a fair Prices are unchanged. Standard extras quotable at $5 25 ⅌ bbl, choice country, $4 75@5; outside and superfine, $4@4 50.

RAILROAD LANDS.

OFFICE OF LAND DEPARTMENT

Oregon and California R R Co and European and Oregon Land Co

Portland Oregon August 1 1871

THE COMPANY IS NOW PREPARED TO EXTEND [illegible] privilege of purchasing Railroad Lands in advance of the same being placed on market to all parties [illegible] of securing them on the following terms

The applicant filing in this office a claim in the form prescribed to wit

Pre-emption [illegible] date No ——

To the Land Agent of the European and Oregon Land Company

Sir I [illegible] notify that I have settled upon and improved (description of land) in the county of —— State of Oregon containing —— acres and that I claim a pre-emption right to purchase said lands at the Company's valuation in accordance with the following resolution of the Directors of said Company adopted the twenty sixth day of May A D 1871 to the terms of which I hereby fully assent

Resolved That the parties settling upon and improving any of the lands of the European and Oregon Land Company before the same are opened for market shall be entitled to the pre-emption privilege of purchase on the same terms as the Company would sell the land for without improvement, and shall be subject to the same conditions of payment, as all other lands belonging to the Company when brought into market, provided such settlers shall file in the Land Office of said Company written application giving notice of such settlement and shall accept the privilege upon the condition that when the price of the land shall be fixed notice thereof shall be sent by the Company's Land Agent through the Postoffice or otherwise as may be convenient, to the residence of the party claiming the pre-emption privilege and if the land is not purchased by the said party within sixty days from the date of such notice, the Company will be at liberty to sell the land to any other person

(Name of applicant)

(Postoffice address)

When the application is received a certificate signed by the Agent obligating the Company to the terms, will be sent to the claimant in the following form

PRE EMPTION CERTIFICATE, NO ——

This is to certify that —— of —— county State of Oregon has this day filed in this office a pre-emption claim to (description of premises) and is hereby entitled to the first privilege of purchasing said land at the Company's valuation (which is to be made without reference to improvements) when the same shall be placed in market in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Directors of said Company, adopted May 26 A D 1871

When the price of the above described land is fixed notice thereof will be sent to the party to whom this Certificate is issued, and if the land is not purchased by the said party as the holder hereof within sixty days from the date of said notice the Company will be at liberty to sell the land to any other person

(Signed)

Land Agent of the E & O Land Co

The lands will be appraised by a competent, disinterested party under oath at their actual present value—no fancy or prospective price on the basis of similar lands in the vicinity and when appraisement is made they will be sold in quantity not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres to one person payable in five equal annual installments with interest from date of contract at ten per cent per annum principal and interest payable in United States Legal Tender Notes Warranty deeds given after United States Patent issues upon payment in full

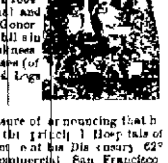
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY ST., NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed his practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearny street corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons, both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid emaciated and disgusted faces and their broken down constitution disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guard and friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these terrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs, confused vision blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the faces furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of the complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country, with full and plain directions By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co. a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades Some are tinsmiths shoemakers newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers, etc The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates pretended patients letters, etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure
